

MACLEOD ELKS STAGE
WILD DUCK BANQUET—
GOOD ATTENDANCE—
ENJOYABLE SOCIAL EV-ENING

Wild duck suppers are not such very common affairs these days, but the "Hello Bills" of Macleod Elk Lodge are establishing the custom of having such a function as one of the annual celebrations of the lodge. The popularity of this class of banquet was fully demonstrated on Wednesday evening when about 75 members, visiting brothers and invited friends sat down at the tables. The various committees who had charge of the arrangements certainly excelled themselves in the splendid provision they made for the entertainment of the guests. On each plate there was a whole, steaming hot duck, cooked to satisfy the most fastidious taste. Other elements of the culinary art completed a most sumptuous banquet.

Seated at the head table was Exalted Ruler Ray Baker, Macleod; Past Exalted Ruler J. Vaselenak, Lethbridge No. 37; Exalted Ruler Parsons, Lethbridge Lodge No. 37; Exalted Ruler Alex Allen, Stavelly Lodge; Ex-Mayor J. W. McDonald, K.C.; J. D. Matheson, K.C.

The toast to the King was first on the programme. Exalted Ruler Baker in his chairman's remarks, said how delighted he was to preside over such a gathering, and to have the privilege of welcoming so many brothers and friends to the local lodge's festive board. Especially was he delighted to welcome the brothers from Lethbridge and Stavelly. These fraternal visits, said the chairman, were a great stimulus to the members, and the intercourse and exchange of ideas was a means of encouragement in the noble work in which the lodges were engaged.

Mr. McDonald was the first speaker, and gave a very fine, though short address on "The Brotherhood of Man." He first spoke of the motto of the Elks, "To make life sweeter," which embodied the wisdom of kindness to everyone with whom we come in daily contact. Helping to sweeten the lives of others should be the highest aim of every member of the lodge, and by doing so they would sweeten their own lives. Mr. McDonald said that since he had resigned the duties of Mayor he had found more time for reading, and he had been studying ancient history, and he found that the Brahmins, from the earliest times had made what we call the brotherhood of man one of the principal tenets of their religion. When Buddhism sprung up against Brahminism we find that they also joined the brotherhood of man as one of their principal doctrines. Coming down to the Christian era, said the speaker, we find that he who is the head of the head of the Christian religion taught and enjoined his followers to practice brotherly love towards all men. Among the Chinese the same principles apply, as seen by the way they help each other; you never see or hear of a Chinaman being in a bread-line in this country. Mr. McDonald concluded by saying that all the fraternal orders were founded on the principle of the brotherhood of man, and that men were broadened out by joining such societies as the Elks.

Bro. Allen Stavelly, told how pleased he was to be present, and said that this was the third time he had visited the Macleod Lodge, and that he thought more and more of the Macleod members every time he met them. He emphasized the benefits to lodges by the interchange of visits, and extended a cordial invitation to Macleod Brothers to visit Stavelly.

J. D. Matheson was the next speaker, and his subject was "Why I Joined the Elks." Mr. Matheson, in a delightful manner, told a number of stories illustrating his subject in a most effective way. One reason for joining was the company and sociability of the lodge. Man, he said, is a social animal, and likes the fellowship of other men, especially of those who are banded together for the helping of others. Another reason was that he found that there was no class or creed in the Elk Lodge, that the only thought of the members was to carry out some good work, something for the betterment of their fellow men, and he heartily approved of the work they were doing.

Mr. Vaselenak, Lethbridge, paid a high compliment to the Macleod Lodge, speaking of the fine spirit of the members and their evident enthusiasm in the work of the lodge. He said that Elksdom in this district was in a very healthy condition. He went on to say that all over Southern Alberta the Elk Lodges were flourishing and doing splendid work in their various communities. He quite endorsed Brother Matheson's remarks that the organization fits all classes and conditions of men, and that the society was a real benevolent society. Mr. Vaselenak closed by giving a very cordial invitation to the Macleod Brothers to visit the Lethbridge Lodge.

Bro. Geo. Parsons, Lethbridge, commended the Macleod Lodge, and spoke of the pleasure the Lethbridge members had in being present and enjoying the hospitality of the Macleod Lodge.

Past Exalted Ruler Frank Walshe in a few appropriate words expressed the pleasure of the Macleod members in welcoming the Brothers from Lethbridge and Stavelly, and also the guests who were not members of the Lodge. He hoped that some of the visitors would eventually become members.

Councillor W. A. Day and Councillor C. W. Stevens both made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion.

The musical part of the programme was splendidly sustained by the following: Roger Hunt, Percy Longley, Wm. Whitworth, Jeff Young, Fred Shiel, with Messrs Booth and Stones playing the accompaniments on the piano.

At 11 o'clock the Elks' special service was observed, the oration being given in splendid style by Brother Parsons, of Lethbridge.

The singing of the National Anthem closed a most enjoyable and interesting entertainment.

HIS WISH

MOUNTAIN VIEW REBEK-AH'S ENTERTAIN AT CARDS AND DANCING

The members of Mountain View Rebekah Lodge, No. 23, Macleod, were at home to their friends on Tuesday evening for their annual invitation card party and dance in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

There were over 200 responded to the invitation, and a most enjoyable evening was spent in playing progressive whist, 40 tables being in play, and afterward in dancing. The prize winners were: Ladies' first Mrs. C. C. Bremner; consolation Mrs. T. Brown. Gentlemen's first Carl Edlund; consolation Percy Longley. After the presentation of the prizes another very pleasant surprise presentation took place when Mrs. R. J. E. Gardiner called forward Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shield, and on behalf of the members of Mountain View Rebekah Lodge presented them with a silver cake basket, and in doing so said that the members felt that they could not allow this auspicious event to pass without recognizing the long service which they had both rendered to the lodge since it was organized about twenty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Shield being charter members. Mrs. Gardiner expressed the hope that many happy years of married life were still in store for them and asked them to accept the small token of respect and appreciation from the members of the Rebekah Lodge. Mr. Shield, in a few happy chosen words, thanked the sisters and brothers for the gift, stating that he and Mrs. Shield were pleased to still be members of Mountain View Rebekah Lodge.

Dancing was then engaged in for several hours, the music being supplied by Mr. Booth, piano; Glen and Clarence Ringland, saxophones; Andy Mackay, drums.

The Noble Grand, Miss Florence McKenzie, and the Vice Grand, Miss Lenora Bremner, welcomed the guests as they entered the hall. The Brothers

The Macleod Public and High Schools had a fire drill last Friday, and the 350 children left the building in a most orderly manner in the short time of forty seconds. OBITUARY

DEATH OF MRS. GRENNEY

Mrs. Marion Teatman Grenney, formerly of Vancouver Island, B.C., and Cardston, Alberta, died Sunday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. R. W. Whiteman, 447 Scarboro Avenue, at the age of 90 years.

Mrs. Grenney first came west to Vancouver Island, B.C., in 1907, accompanied by her son-in-law, the late Rev. A. W. R. Whiteman, and her daughter, Mrs. Whiteman. After two years residence at the Coast, she moved to Cardston, Alberta, and in 1914 came to Calgary, where she had resided since except for a short residence at Macleod during the pastorate of her son-in-law, the Rev. A. W. R. Whiteman, in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in that town. The Rev. Mr. Whiteman died at Macleod in May, 1926.

Deceased is survived by her daughter; a grand-daughter, Miss Dorothy Whiteman, of Calgary; and one son, Fred R. Grenney, of New York City.—Calgary Albertan.

DEATH OF MRS. JOSEPH STENSON

Friends will be sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Joseph Stenson, of Winslow, B.C., formerly of Macleod. She has been staying at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Hincks, at Calgary, formerly of Lethbridge, and has been ill for several months, death being due to cancer.

The late Mrs. Stenson was born at Baschurch, England, and came to Canada in 1907, when she and her husband settled near Macleod, where they resided until 1919.

Surviving her are her husband, Joseph, in Winslow; a daughter, Mrs. Hincks, Calgary; and two sisters and one brother, in England.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from Armstrong's Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. H. Wilkinson officiating. Burial followed in Burnside cemetery.—Calgary Albertan.

COMING EVENTS
FORESHADOWED

The Macleod Women's Institute will visit the Granum Institute instead of having their regular October meeting. The Granum Institute meets in Reynold's Hall on October 21st at 3 o'clock.

The Hockey Club management 1928-1929 will give a Halloween Dance in the Elks' Hall, Macleod, Friday, October 31st. Proceeds for payment of debts 1928-1929. 32-5t

The Presbyterian C.G.I.T. Group will hold a Tea and Pantry Table in the Town Hall on Saturday, October 25th, from 3 to 6.

"HOLD EVERYTHING" THE FASTEST, ZIPPIEST VITAPHONE MUSICAL SHOW OF THE SEASON WINS COMEDY TITLE—JOE E. BROWN AND WINNIE LIGHTNER HERE IN NEW FILM BRING ON A LAUGH EVERY MINUTE—HERE THURS., FRI., SAT.—EMPRESS THEATRE

In "Hold Everything" a Vitaphone all-color musical comedy which literally "has everything," Warner Bros. have produced one of the most thoroughly amusing motion pictures of the season.

In cast, story, voice reproduction and the use of color photography, this latest example of the modern screen art takes its place in the very front rank of the new film productions.

In less than a year's time Winnie Lightner has emerged as the cleverest comedienne developed by the talking screen. In her first feature, "Gold Diggers of Broadway," she repeatedly topped the show, and film fans started asking "where has she been all the time?" Her particular brand of boisterous humor is put across with an unrestrained technique that is something quite new in film acting. It is, however, so individual that the Warner executives signed her a long-term contract as soon as they saw the rushes of "Gold Diggers of Broadway."

Although she is a recent favorite, Winnie Lightner is by no means unknown to the patrons of either vaudeville or musical comedy. As a matter of fact, she has been a headliner on the variety stage for many years, and has been featured in several Broadway revues.

WILL ROGERS' NEWEST MOVIE TONE DELIGHTS—"SO THIS IS LONDON," GEORGE M. COHAN'S STAGE TRIUMPH PROVES EXCELLENT VEHICLE FOR BRILLIANT COMBOY PHILOSOPHER—MON.—TUES. AT THE EMPRESS

Will Rogers has contributed his homely wit and philosophy to the lecture platform, to the vaudeville stage, to musical comedy and through the medium of the printed word in the columns of the press, but none has seemed to reveal the real Will Rogers as does the talking screen. This was first proven when Rogers made his first audible picture, "They Had to See Paris," and doubly confirmed in his second starring picture, "So This is London."

His present opus is far more entertaining than his first, mainly because it is better tailored and fitted to Rogers' distinctive personality. As the wealthy owner of a cotton mill in Texas who is keenly bitter against England and all Englishmen, chiefly because they are not Americans, Rogers is at his best. And when he is forced to go to England on business and happens to meet titled people who are just as hateful toward Americans, then there comes a mutual understanding which makes for a delightfully amusing comedy drama.

Irene Rich heads the supporting company, with Maureen O'Sullivan and Frank Albertson interpreting with delightful freshness the roles of the young lovers.

Adapted from the stage play by Owen Davis, Sr., the screen version proves 100 per cent more entertaining under the balaclava of John G. Blystone, in our humble opinion.

REGULAR MEETING MAC-LEOD TOWN COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of Macleod Town Council was held on Thursday evening, those present being: Mayor J. Swinerton; Councillors Day, Tweed, Fanset, Baker, McLeod and Stevens.

The offer of the C.P.R. to transfer to the town lots 31 to 34 on the south side of 19th St. west, for the sum of $1.00 was accepted. The taxes of same to be paid to the end of 1930.

Dr. O. F. Fanset was appointed deputy mayor for the three months ending December 31st.

A motion was passed that the G.W.V.A. taxes, amounting to $194.65 be written off. The appointment of H. R. Cleaver as town electrician at a salary of $150.00 per month as from October 1st was confirmed.

Charles Wood asked that the street light on the corner of 10th street be put on again. The matter was referred to the Water and Light Committee.

The application of Fred Thewlis to erect a dwelling on 21st street was approved.

A considerable amount of routine business was discussed by the Council.

first comment that comes to this critic. You simply can't afford to miss it if you care anything for the best in motion pictures. For Richard Barthelmess has never had a finer role; he has never been presented in a more appealing and human story; and he has never been supported by a more splendid cast.

UNIVERSES IN THE MAKING

One universe, the one that we know, is running down. The other, a vast interstellar thing (or condition) is being continually born.

That is the cosmic picture held out to us by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, famous for his discoveries regarding the "cosmic ray."

The layman is inclined to think of Dr. Millikan's researches as a romancing in the higher spaces. But these same discoveries may some day furnish the world with its power for industries.

The cosmic ray is the shortest of all known rays. It penetrates 16 feet of lead. It is the most penetrating power known. We are told, for our own enlightenment, that the longest in the series are .000,000,000,067 millimeters. Hence their power of penetration. We are

Brewing is an Important Industry in Alberta

The Brewing Industry is an important factor in the industrial life of this Province.

It is hardly necessary to emphasize the millions of dollars which have been invested throughout Alberta in this industry.

Hundreds of Albertans enjoy steady employment throughout the year in the brewing, storing, transporting, of the products of the five great modern breweries of Alberta.

subject to their bombardment 24 hours a day, whether we like it or not, and no matter where we go.

Having discovered and measured them, Dr. Millikan goes far afield for their source. He decided they may come from three possible sources: From the energy released by the annihilation of atoms in the interior of stars; from the building of atoms in the stellar spaces; or they may result from the re-birth of heavier atoms from lighter ones in interstellar spaces.

Dr. Millikan believes the source is the last of the three. That opens a vista so tremendous as to dwarf all previous of the cosmic plan, vast though that may have been.

At any rate, whether we of this generation share in the blessings of cosmic power, we can at least look on and applaud this revelation of the universe's own romance.

And for the present we can congratulate ourselves that the cosmic ray discoveries are already harnessed in forecasting the weather.

KNOWING WHAT, BUT NOT WHY

Although the human mind has reached out billions of miles into space and brought back facts, there are still large gaps in human knowledge to be filled.

Astronomers know accurately just what substances compose the sun, 92,000,000 miles away. But they can't explain why gravity pulls everything toward the centre of the earth.

We know, almost to a mile, the size and speed of stars many light years away. But we don't know why one of two boys, brought up in the same environment, will turn out to be a success, while the other goes to prison.

The fascinating thing about each new fact learned is that it opens up a hundred new puzzles to be solved. Some day, when we have accumulated most of the facts of the universe, we shall start to understand the reason for it. Probably it will prove very simple.

But the great job for the next few years will be the discovery of more facts.

Binks: Yes, from cover to cover charge.

ALL THAT'S NEEDED

The prospective groom (gayly): Will it take much to feather a nest?

Furniture Dealer: Only a little down.

CREATING SENTIMENT

Jazz: Why are all the bands playing?

Razz: It is a demonstration in the interests of noise suppression.

PREPAREDNESS

Hi: Why are you getting the Yule log so soon?

Si: I do my Christmas chopping early.—Chicago Daily News.

Wife: Shall I repair this rip in your golf knickers?

Hubby: Yes, do sew, by all means.—Chicago Daily News.

The new generation isn't naughtier than the old. It just doesn't wait until it goes to the city.

SOMETHING THAT DOES NOT WORRY US

"Scientists tell us," says the Farm Journal, "that our coal supply will be exhausted as the year 2,500. Then what will we do?"

Inexpensive Desserts And How to Make Them

BY EDWINA NOLAN

Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department

DESSERTS can be made attractive and nutritious without costing much and they should be planned as part of the meal because of the energy food they provide in the form of sugar.

Odds and ends of fruit, a little custard and some whipped cream—all of which may be left from other meals—make a delicious and economical dessert. So also do many other combinations which can be concocted from left-overs.

There are the fruit gelatines, whips and sponges which can be made from ingredients you are apt to have on hand—apple sauce, a few prunes left from breakfast or some canned apricots—and the necessary staples such as sugar and gelatine, with the addition of eggs for sponges. Then there are the frozen desserts, some of which, especially the sherbets, also are inexpensive. The cream mixtures may cost a little more to make, but they are rich and only small portions need be served.

By not wasting food or money through unwise purchases or from food spoilage, the housewife finds it far less expensive to entertain. And what homemaker does not take pleasure in having her friends drop in informally for luncheon, tea or dinner? Facilities for keeping left-overs and for making the many delicious desserts are necessary but the constant, proper temperature assured through electric refrigeration provides a means for serving any number of new, attractive and inexpensive dishes.

A Two-Sided Story

Following is a letter that appeared in a Western newspaper, written by one of its readers. There is information in it for storekeepers: "Your paper is always boosting that home-town buying is the right thing, for if everybody bought away we would not have a town very long. In your editorial a week or two ago you said there would be less buying from catalogues if every merchant would advertise, because it is advertising that keeps the catalogue men going. Well, I believe that's right too, but one thing I would like to see all the local merchants do, and there are more who think the same, and that is for them to print the prices as much as they can in their advertising. And I also think that if the prices are going up they should say so and tell why, if they know. These times we all have to bite our nickles, or most of us, and we certainly don't like the idea of prices going up on staples particularly, and not a word about it till you reach the store. I am not an advertising expert, but I know what I would like to see in my local paper along that line and that is a lot of genuine information about goods and prices every week. Then we should feel better and if we were being fairly treated there would be less sending away. I hear this talked about a lot, so thought I would write you."

The Catholic Ladies' Aid announce that they are holding their Fall Bazaar in Reynolds Hall on Saturday, Nov. 1st. Watch for further announcements.

The Women's Institute will meet in Reynolds Hall on Tuesday afternoon, October 21st, at 3 o'clock. All members and friends are invited to attend. A demonstration of Home Dinner Cooking will be given.

Mr. Andrews, who came to Granum last June, and has recently purchased the cows and dairy farm of J. Herman, is now becoming quite conversant with the new rounds, and expects to put a new milk-cart on the route very soon. He is meeting with a cordial reception, having had several years of experience in this work.

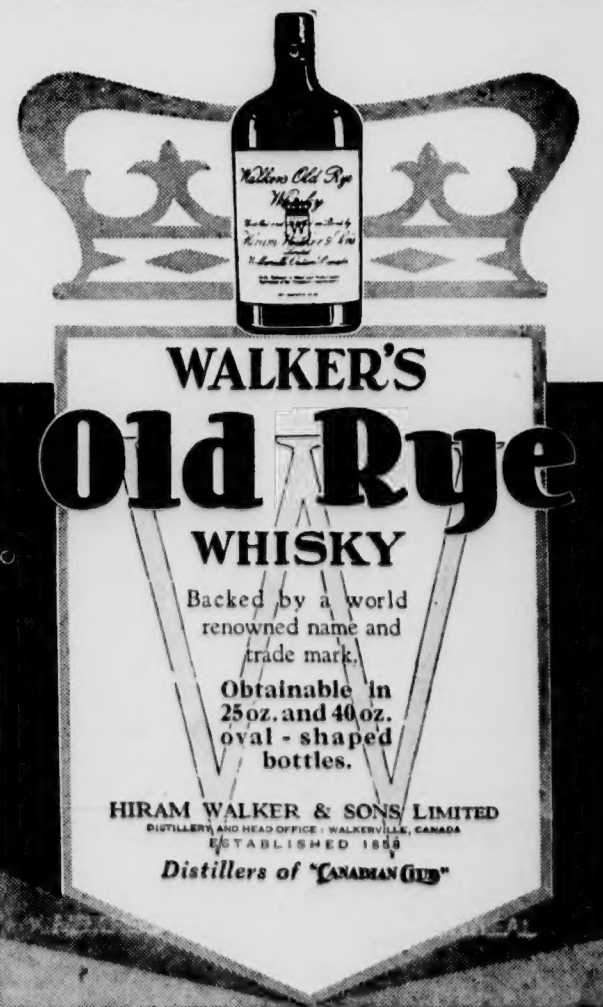

An extremely valuable opportunity will be afforded the people of this community next Sunday evening, October 19th, to hear an address from Rev. Dr. Hugh Dobson, of Vancouver, B.C., when he will preach in the United Church at the regular service at 7.30 p.m. Dr. Dobson is a well-known leader of evangelistic and social service work, being chairman of the Social Service Council Committee of Canada, which has lately issued a report on "The Trend of Family Life and Marriage in Our Times," a study which is very important and far-reaching. The minister and session of the United Church are favored in getting Mr. Dobson, and invite all who can to worship at the United Church and hear his address.

The Young People's Society banquet held in the United Church last Friday evening was one of the finest events of the kind ever held in Granum. The programme was arranged by a committee consisting of Miss Calder and Chellis Easton, and was carried through in fine fashion by the various speakers and singers whose names appeared before in these columns. The dinner committee, consisting of Marion Clarke and Dorothy Smith, had made ample provision and the roast chicken and pumpkin pie were delicious. A number of ladies, among whom were Mrs. Easton, Mrs. J. Clarke, Mrs. E. M. Clarke, Mrs. J. Ellis, Mrs. MacGregor, Mrs. J. I. Dimm, and Mrs. W. B. Rogers, assisted the young ladies, and all the appointments were faultless. Sixty sat down at the beautiful banquet tables. An added feature of interest and pleasure was afforded in the visit of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Garden and Mrs. Short, who were en route to Pincher Creek from Calgary, and who took places in the company. Mr. Garden delighted the folks with a brief speech interspersed with Scotch stories in rich dialect. The election of officers in the Y.P.S. resulted in the choosing of the following: President, Fenton Blair; Vice President, Miss Jean Rogers; Secretary-Treasurer, Dorothy Smith. Meetings will be held regularly at the hour of 7.30 on Monday evenings, and the next meeting on October 20th will be in charge of Miss Rogers and Fenton Blair.

The Annual Harvest Home service was celebrated at the United church last Sunday, and it was a matter of much notice that the harvest decorations were most beautiful. Some remarks were heard to the effect that one would hardly see at a Fair so many or so beautiful displays of fruits, vegetables, grains, etc. The floral and plant decorations were impressive. Not only did the decoration committee, composed of Mesdames J. Clarke, Torrence, E. M. Clarke, MacGregor, J. I. Dimm, Daley, Rogers, and others, receive generous help from the congregation, but others sent contributions, among whom might be named Mrs. F. Venne, Mr. and Mrs. Ensminger, and Mr. Robertson of the Superior Meat Market. Of more than passing interest were the splendid raspberries from the garden of Mrs. W. A. Blair.

There being branches well loaded with ripe and green fruit, as well as a confection jar filled with luscious berries fresh-tales were called to mind as he referred to the associations of Holyrood Castle, Ellen's Isle, Stirling Castle, Balmoral, and other historic spots. Everyone tried to be Scotch enough to sing "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon," and other Scotch classics, and with the historic and literary interest and mod-

"Good equipment makes a good farmer better"
Published by

The Farm Equipment Man

You could tell what a smart guy he was. He always looked both directions when crossing a one-way street.

It's easy to have running water in the house when you have a McCormick-Deering Engine to operate the pump. Why ask your wife and children to lug buckets of water when a moderate investment will put a plentiful supply on the other side of a faucet?

"What's the trouble with that young Scotch student?"
"Oh, he just got a shine and then remembered that they were his room-mate's shoes."

Ball bearings are saving the world from friction and hard work. This is especially true of the McCormick-Deering Ball-Bearing Cream Separator.

Money talks most when a man marries it.

One of our good customers recently bought a new McCormick-Deering Ball-Bearing Cream Separator and hooked it up to his McCormick-Deering Engine that he got last year. Now he says he wants more cows.

Customer: I want a ton of coal.
Dealer: Yes, sir. What size?
Customer: Well, if it's not asking too much, I would like to have a two-thousand-pound ton.

The McCormick-Deering Engine and the Ball-Bearing Cream Separator provide a combination that is a money-maker every day in the year with very little work.

Dream big dreams, and then put on your overalls and go out and make those big dreams come true.

Whether you want an electric drive, an engine drive, or an "elbow" drive, we can supply you with a McCormick-Deering Ball-Bearing Cream Separator that will fit your needs.

We are here to give service, and that term includes advice and suggestions on all sorts of farm difficulties.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson and family, of Turner Valley, were visitors in Macleod for the week-end, returning on Sunday. Mrs. Thompson, sr., returned with them for an extended visit at Turner Valley.

Christ Church W.A. lately sponsored a very interesting exhibition of painting and designs by Macleod's artist, Miss Anora Brown, A.O.C.A., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Foster Brown. Miss Brown's artistry is of a high order, and those fortunate enough to be present to view this exhibition are lavish in expressions of appreciation of the exhibit both as to its range and merit.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shield gave them a surprise party at their home one day last week. James S. Lambert, in a short speech suitable for the occasion presented Mr. and Mrs. Shield with a handsome silver bon bon dish on behalf of the friends present, expressing the hope that they would enjoy many more happy years of wedded life, and that the gift would be a reminder to them of the esteem in which they were held by their many friends. Mr. Shield thanked them heartily for the lovely gift and for the kind words and feelings expressed by Mr. Lambert. The company then played whist, and after an enjoyable game the following were declared winners of the prizes: Ladies' first Mrs. J. McNab; consolation Mrs. F. Wintermute. Gentlemen's first Wesley Shield; consolation W. G. Andrews. Refreshments were served by the ladies, a feature of which was a lovely wedding cake which everyone present greatly enjoyed.

A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ripley, 17th St., this week when a number of their friends gave them a surprise, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. Court whist was played at 3 tables, and a delightful time was enjoyed by all present. The prize winners were: Ladies' first Mrs. F. Wintermute; booby Mrs. McFarquhar. Gentlemen's first Frank Wintermute; booby Luther Crowson. At the conclusion of the card playing Mrs. C. Brewster presented Mrs. Ripley with a lovely china sandwich set, on behalf of the friends who had gathered to wish them many happy returns of the day. Mrs. Ripley, in returning thanks for the beautiful gift and for the kindly feelings which had prompted the party, stated that it was a genuine surprise to them when they saw the crowd at their door. The guests provided refreshments, and a jolly time was spent, the party breaking up at an early hour.

Last week the young ladies of the Scarlet and Gold Club spent a most enjoyable evening at the home of one of the members, Miss Cora Hicks, the occasion being a shower for Miss Loretta Wall, whose wedding takes place this week. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color of the club predominating. The table was a special bower of beauty with autumn leaves intermingled with ribbons of scarlet and gold. On the center was the receptacle containing the gifts, and on top of which was a large dish filled with fruit. A streamer of ribbon for each guest was attached to the fruit, and the guest of honor's streamer was attached to the gifts. The gift from the club was a handsome set of silver teaspoons, and each of the members contributed an individual gift. Several of the members made short complimentary speeches appropriate to the occasion, and Miss Wall, in a few happily chosen words, thanked the guests for the lovely gifts and for their good wishes. Lunch was then served by the hostess.

Happy Anderson and Jack Cousins, well known commercial men working out of Calgary, spent Wednesday shooting ducks near Cardston, and were successful in getting limit bags of "green heads."

Mr. Liesemer, former principal of Macleod school, now on the staff of Crescent Heights School, Calgary, was a week-end visitor in Macleod, renewing old acquaintances. He was the guest of Mrs. F. Cutler.

The Council of the Municipal District of Bright, No. 69, met on Saturday for their regular monthly meeting, when all the members were present. Only routine business occupied the attention of the Council.

Farmers Want Alberta Live Stock

Many farmers want feeding and breeding cattle. Live-stock is one of the best means by which grain can be marketed. Help to preserve this market by keeping unfinished cattle and breeding stock on Alberta farms.
